

THE SPECIFICITY OF THE SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE OF STUDENTS WITH HEARING IMPAIRMENTS

Ravshanova Hanifa Akmalovna*

*Master of the 2nd Course,
CHSPU, Specialty of Pedagogy and Psychology,
UZBEKISTAN
Email id: Hanifaravshanova@mail.ru

DOI: 10.5958/2278-4853.2022.00244.0

ABSTRACT

The article analyzes students with hearing impairments based on the results of research on the specificity of social intelligence. In this case, the indicators of social intelligence of students of a special (weak hearing) school with students of a secondary school on social intelligence tests were studied comparative.

KEYWORDS: Pupils with Hearing Impairment, Weak Hearing, Deaf Children, Social Intelligence, Secondary School, Special (Weak Hearing) School.

LITERATURE

1. Avlaev O. U. Gender differences of social intelligence in student development. Scientific journal "Psychology". 2021. # Pages 1, 34-41.
2. Avlaev O. U., Butaeva U. Psychological determinant of personality development. Scientific-methodical journal of public education. 2021. # Pages 6, 87-92.
3. Badalev, A.A. Obtshayapsychodiagnostics. - M.: MGU, 1987.
4. Burkhanov A., Avlaev A., Abdusalilova Sh. Responsibility as a criterion for determining personal maturity / E3s web of Conferences 2021.
5. Rovshanova X.A., Avlaev A. U. Dynamics of social intelligence of weakly hearing adolescents. Educational and innovative research (2022 No. 9) 346 -353 P.