ABSTRACT

One of the pressing issues today is the use of modern information technologies in education, the development of effective approaches, the introduction of advanced methods of education to closely acquaint the growing younger generation with the achievements of world civilization, the radical improvement of the system of training potential specialists, and ensuring their large-scale use of World Information Resources. Information technology (IT) is a set of interrelated scientific and technical fields of knowledge that study and apply in practice methods of creating, processing, storing, protecting and transmitting information using computer technology. In other words, it is a practical application of technology and capabilities.

KEYWORDS: Education, Physical Education, Physical Activity, Physical Culture, Physical Education Theory, Health, Sports, Upbringing Of A Healthy Generation, Healthy Lifestyle, Modernization.
